The rules of the street

No refs, no red card, no penalty. A festival for football anarchists? Not at all: The players at Mariannenplatz play without strict regulations but not without rules: 1. Fair Play is a priority – no fouls and no insults! 2. A game lasts 12 minutes in the group stages and 20 minutes in the finals. 3. Many projects play with mixed teams – it is not, however, compulsory. 4. Prior to every match the rules are defined by the players: throw-in or kick-in? Do goals scored by girls count double? Do we help our counterparts up from the ground after a tackle? 5. There are no referees. Fouls will be called by the players. Three independent „Teamers“ will arbitrate if the players can not agree among themselves.
