Dear Chipa Family,
patrons, sponsored children,
Chiparamba team members,
Chipa Partners,
friends at Jarmy School,
vice-presidents,
ambassadors
and other friends and close ones.

We will take this opportunity – now that the year 2006 belongs to the past – to inform our contributors and others who are close to the foundation about the activities of Chiparamba during the past year. Together we achieved the following:

“Kick Aids Out” took place in Gothenburg. 51 patrons chose to support a total of 102 players and their sisters. A fruitful partnership was launched with Jarmy School. Juggler, barefooted Wallace, who became our logo, was rediscovered. Our DVD “Kick Aids Out” from our magical evening at the Café Opera was released. Chiparamba participated in the Gothia Cup – the world’s biggest football tournament for youths. The popular chairman of the Chiparamba Great Eagles, Rupiah Banda, became Zambia’s vice president. The football tournament “Fair Play to Fight Aids” was organized in Lusaka. Architects Henrik and Johan started to work on drawings for “Chipa School”. “Chipa Sisters & Brothers” database was completed. Chad Smith, drummer in Red Hot Chili Peppers, bought a Chipa picture. And much, much more.

Welcome to support the Chiparamba Foundation during 2007!

CHIPARAMBA IN FOCUS AT THE HEADTEACHER ACADEMY

On February 8 Klas was invited to inform about the activities of the Foundation at Stockholm's Headmaster Academy before an audience of nearly 200 persons in the Stockholm restaurant Berns. The invitation came from Caj Malmros, co-founder of the Headmaster Academy and also a member of the Chipa Family. During the year high jumper Staffan Strand and management consultant Malou Örner were guest speakers at the Headmaster Academy and they both donated their fees to the Chiparamba Foundation.

Thank you Caj for giving us some free publicity in this distinguished context and thank you Staffan Strand and Malou Örner for your generosity.

OPERATION A DAY'S WORK GATHERED 6.883 $

Kajsa Björkhagen – Klas' eldest daughter – happened to mention to the student council and to the headmaster at Högsåtra School in Lidingö that her father was involved in the Chiparamba Foundation. As a result Klas was invited to inform the faculty and students on May 19 about the Foundation. And this led to the school deciding to collect money for the Chiparamba Foundation on its "Operation A Day's Work" on May 31. The efforts of the school gathered an impressive 6.883 $.

We humbly thank headmaster Ville, the student council, all the pupils, parents and not the least Kajsa.

During a seminar, organized by the Headmaster Academy, we got the opportunity to inform headmasters and teachers about the "Chipa Sisters & Brothers" sponsoring program.

“KICK AIDS OUT” AT JUNGMAN JANSSON

Lennart Bäckman and Dan Allbäck – the gentlemen who discovered the Chiparamba Great Eagles in Lusaka in 1997 – organized “Kick Aids Out” at the Gothenburg restaurant Jungman Jansson. Nikke Ström, the legendary bassplayer in the swedish rock group “Nationalteatern” and member of the Chipa Family, had succeeded in gathering the cream of Gothenburg performers and entertainers plus Mats Ronander, the blues artist from Örebro. The host for the evening was Hans Mosesson who among other things interviewed Zambia’s ambassador to Sweden, Joyce Musenge. The highpoints were numerous, such as when Mickey Dee, the drummer of Motörhead, joined Nationalteatern, when Freddie Wadling movingly sang “A waltz” and when Ebbot Lundberg from Soundtrack of Our Lives interpreted Ray Davies “Sunny Afternoon.” Goosebumps is the term! The sale of art, Lasse Åberg’s lithographs, tickets to various events contributed to the returns of the day. We also got 16 new patrons!

A tremendous thank you to Nikke Ström for your involvement and for your talented handling of the music. To the host for the evening, Hans Mosesson, and finally, and not the least to the generous restaurateurs, Stefan and Stefan.

"CHIPA SCHOOL" TO OPEN SOON IN LUSAKA

Lennart, Dan and Klas traveled to Lusaka in early June to study the possibilities of starting a school in Lusaka. The visit started with a meeting with George Chulumanda – Minister of Sports, Youth and Child Development – which had been arranged by Rupiah Banda, chairman of the Chiparamba Great Eagles. We presented the activities of the Foundation for which George displayed a good deal of appreciation and he promised to help in every conceivable way to launch a school. The following day we drove around Lusaka with Rupiah and George and we took a look at different schools and football fields that could serve our purposes. The site Municipal, which is located in downtown Lusaka, turned out to meet our needs, but negotiations with the owners have not yet led to an agreement.

As 78 of our 102 sponsored children attend Jarmy School we called on them. The school was founded in 1998 by Bishop Flemings Mtonga. Some 850 pupils attend grades 1 through 12 in what is considered to be one of the best managed schools in Lusaka. The culture of the school is based on Christian values, which is not unusual in Zambia, as the majority of the citizens are church people who regularly attend services on Sundays. When asked how the sponsored children were doing in school, Flemings replied that "the results are very mixed, many do well, especially among the girls. Some of the Chiparamba players, however, have difficulty attending classes. Many of them have not been in school for several years".

Some 850 pupils attend Jarmy School in downtown Lusaka. This education is much more successful than in the Government schools.

School uniforms are compulsory in Zambian schools. This is an inheritance from the British colonial days.

During our visit we hired 24-year-old Tobias Tembo, who had been chosen “Best student of the year” in 2005 at Kabulonga High School. Tobias, who lost both of his parents at an early age, had grown up as a street child and had worked as a volunteer at “Zambia Red Cross Society,” a day center for street children in Lusaka. Tobias is going to continue to gather information about the 102 sponsored children, identify more of the players in Chiparamba and their sisters who are in need of contributions to pay their school fees and the like. It is also Tobias job to keep in touch with schools, the children’s parents and Chiparamba trainers. Tobias shall report to Bridget Banda, Lennart and Klas.

During our visit we told Rupiah that the photo that Klas took of a little ball-kicking fellow back in November 2004 has served as a model for the Foundation’s logotype. Rupiah was convinced that we should try to find the little boy and he sent two of the trainers with a photo to the football field in Kalingalinga where the photo was taken. The trainers got a bite immediately. A boy recognized the boy on the photo and showed them the way to his home where they met 11-year-old Wallace Sakala, his two sisters Naomi and Lucy and their mother Prisca. It turned out that Wallace remembered the moment the photo was taken. He also told them about his father who had died in 2005, and that he was ranked 4th among the 48 pupils in his class. Chiparamba’s head trainer, Noah, offered him a place on the team and we offered to pay the school fees for Wallace and his sisters.

Thank you, George Chulumanda for showing us schools and football fields on your day off and Rupiah Banda for your warmth and unfailing good humor.

“KICK AIDS OUT” – THE DVD FROM A MAGICAL EVENING RELEASED

On and off during the spring Mats Ronander and Klas – together with Moderna Filmer – have worked on completing the DVD “Kick Aids Out” from the charity gala at Café Opera on December 5, 2005. It was finished in the middle of June and we have sold a hundred copies through our website and we have given away about 500 promotional copies. We have made half-hearted attempts to attract the interest of TV channels but so far without success. Let us take this opportunity to recommend this distinguished DVD as a small present when calling on friends. Orders are received with gratitude at info@chiparamba.com.

A warm thank you to Mats Ronander – Chipa Family – for your exceptional musical contribution and for all those many hours you have put in to making this project possible

Thank you all gifted and generous performers for your participation

CHIPARAMBA ELIMINATED ON PENALTIES IN THE GOTHIA CUP, BUT WINNER OF THE DANA CUP

Last summer the Chiparamba Great Eagles participated for the seventh consecutive year in the Gothia Cup, the world’s largest football tournament, in Gothenburg. They have won the tournament twice in competition with 200 teams from all over the world. This year, however, they were eliminated in the round before the quarterfinals. They lost to the well-organized French team, Squadrasport. Of course, the boys were very disappointed after their sorrowful defeat but they could find some consolation in the fact that – a week earlier – they won the Dana Cup in Denmark for the sixth consecutive year.

Anders Valentin, Chipa Family and Swedish national footballteam physician, sat on the bench as moral and medical support during a couple of the matches. Anders gave a much appreciated talk to trainers and players on the importance of eating wisely and taking measures that can prevent injuries.

Thank you Anders for sacrificing some of your holidays to encourage the boys. Thank you Sven Norfeldt – Chipa Family and the owner of Dunross & Co – for once again making it possible for the boys to travel. And thank you Sten Ivarsson, Dana Cup, for your support to Chiparamba.

"CHIPA EVENING" ATTENDED BY ZAMBIA'S AMBASSADOR

On September 20, an information evening was held for the members of the Chipa Family in the home premises of the Chiparamba Foundation in downtown Stockholm. These were some of things that happened: Annika Dopping interviewed Zambia's ambassador Joyce Musenge, Anders Valentin spoke about his first meeting with the Chiparamba Great Eagles during the Gothia Cup, Tommy Seidefors informed about developing different sponsorship packages and architects Johan Arrhov and Henrik Carlsson talked about their academic project that aims at studying what is necessary to set up a football academy in Lusaka.

A big thank you to all of you who turned up at a time when no one seems to have time. Great! Above all to Annika Dopping for your brilliant interview with Joyce Musenge and to Joyce for your openness and for all the knowledge you gave us about life in Zambia.

Joyce spellbound listeners with her wealth of knowledge about Zambia.

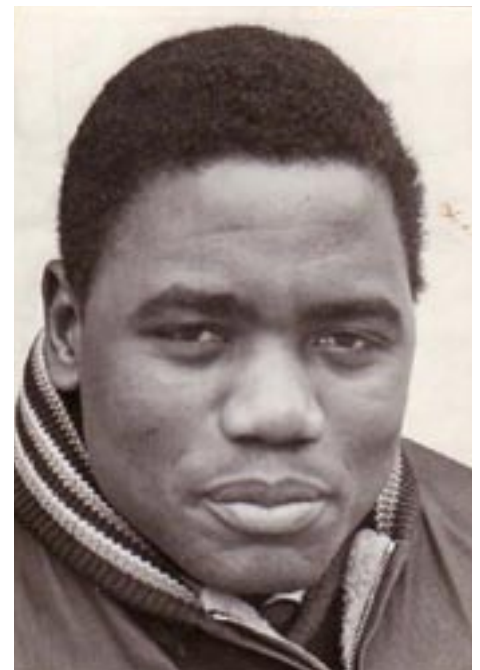

RUPIAH APPOINTED VICE PRESIDENT ON OCTOBER 5

The presidential election was held in Zambia on September 28 when President Levy P. Mwanawasa, MMD (Movement for Multiparty Democracy), was re-elected for a new five year term. Half a year earlier he had sought the support of Rupiah Banda, chairman of the Chiparamba Great Eagles, who had previously held the positions of foreign minister and Zambia's ambassador at the United Nations. Rupiah is a highly respected and very popular politician in Zambia and during the half-year before the elections he worked mostly with strengthening the position of MMD in "Eastern Province."

On October 5 Rupiah was appointed vice president by President Mwanawasa and placed in charge of all the ministers. He is also highly respected in South Africa, not the least by Nelson Mandela and President Thabo Mbeki, because he is a long time supporter of ANC. Rupiah is fond of Sweden, which is probably a result of the fact he was a university student in Lund in the early 1960s. A couple of years later he was a member of the liberation movement along with Kenneth Kaunda who was elected Zambia's first president on October 24, 1964, after 73 years of British rule.

Not without pride the Chiparamba Foundation wants to congratulate Rupiah on being appointed Zambia's vice president.

CHIPARAMBA MEETS ZAMBIA'S PRESIDENT

During the last couple of years the Chiparamba Great Eagles have organized a football tournament, "Fair Play To Fight Aids", in Lusaka. In 2006 twelve teams of eleven-year-olds were invited to participate in a short championship during the weekend of November 4–5. The tournament was sponsored by SKF and the winning team got a trip to the Gothia Cup, paid by SKF. In the most dramatic finals Chiparamba lost 6 to 7 on penalties to another team from Lusaka. This was the main reason for Lennart, Dan and Klas along with Björn Branth of Chipa Family to travel to Zambia during autumn-term holidays. The trip turned out to be very eventful and intensive to say the least. A whirling report follows:

We ate dinner at the Royal Livingstone Hotel at Victoria Falls with Rupiah Banda who was appointed acting president as President Mwanawasa was on an official visit to China. During the dinner Rupiah was given some presents, such as a lithograph "League Football", personally signed by Lasse Åberg. Even though he most likely – and understandably – did not get the point to Lasse's art work he was grateful for the gift from the Chiparamba Foundation.

In Lusaka the group visited Jarmy School once again and Bridget Banda, Christopher Mvula, Tobias Tembo, Lennart and Klas took part in a big meeting with parents, sponsored children, teachers and Bishop Flemings Mtonga. Klas opened the meeting by presenting the activities of the Chiparamba Foundation and its vision. This was followed by Flemings's flaming speech about the importance of attending school and getting an education and that it is entirely possible to combine studies with football training. During the meeting the parents and the sponsored children were informed about the demands that will be placed on youths to take their studies seriously to be allowed to train with Chiparamba. A manner similar to the demands American colleges make on their athletes. These hard demands have become necessary because of the unacceptable lack of attendance of some of the Chiparamba players and their poor academic results.

After the big meeting, Bridget, Tobias, Lennart and Klas had a constructive meeting with Bishop Flemings Mtonga. They could see that the activities of the Foundation and the school were based on similar values and visions which should lead to improved and deeper future cooperation. They agreed on that school is more important than football and therefore a combination of severe discipline and, at the same time, a deep understanding of each individual's situation were essential. Some of the children and youths live under very severe conditions. Several of them have only one or no parents and they must take care of siblings. Others have no shoes and are, therefore, ashamed to attend school. Some of them have not attended school for several years and have difficulty applying themselves to their studies. Many can only handle their tribal language, Bemba. Their knowledge of English – the language used for instruction – is insufficient, which whittles away their self-confidence.

A computer, a printer, a digital camera and a mountainbike were bought to enable Tobias to carry out his duties more efficiently. The Foundation also got the chance to rent a room in Jarmy school and make it into an office with Internet access for Tobias and the trainers. We're hoping that Tobias now has the necessary equipment to manage the administration of "Chipa Sisters & Brothers" more efficiently, which has not been the case to date. During a meeting with Tobias it was decided that he –along with five teachers – shall carry out in-depth interviews with all of the 102 sponsored children and their parents about their life situation. As a result, those in need of further support, should get it through the Foundation.

The importance of finding a balance between football and studies was discussed with Nenani Banda – General Manager of the Chiparamba Great Eagles and a member of the board of the Chiparamba Foundation. We agreed that football was the basis for recruiting the youths, that the boys should keep their dream about a life some day in the future when they can make a living on playing football. At the same time, it is important that everyone involved realizes that studies may not be neglected no matter whether they succeed in becoming professional football players or not. Should their dreams come true they must have the opportunity to understand the conditions in the agreement they have signed and that it will make it easier for them in a foreign country if they have got an education. But most important of all is the fact that the 95 percent who do not succeed in earning a living by playing football, have something they can fall back on when they become adults, a lifeline in one of the world's fifteen poorest countries.

Naturally, we visited Wallace Sakala – the ball kicking boy who has become a symbol for Chiparamba – and his sisters. He has now played with the Chiparamba Great Eagles for half a year and is according to his trainers doing very well on the field. During our visit we promised to help his family in every conceivable manner. His mother, Prisca, is a single parent with three children and lives on very meager conditions.

Some of the Chiparamba 11-year olds shortly before the finals in "Fair Play To Fight Aids"

Rupiah with his wife, Thandi, and their twins Temwani and Duniya at the Royal Livingstone Hotel

It is not only the children who live a tough everyday life in Lusaka. One evening last spring Noah Phiri, the head trainer, and Zucka, the materials administrator, were assaulted and beaten by strangers on their way home from training. It was an expression of envy, according to Noah. During the past winter Noah got one month's trainer training in Sweden. Regrettably, some citizens in Kalingalinga have got the idea that Noah has made a fortune during his visit. Apparently it is not only a Swedish trait to be envious of success. The Foundation has decided to help Noah and Zucka finance living in a better compound as it was considered impossible for them to remain in Kalingalinga.

Thank you Björn Branth for your involvement and for being a pleasant travel companion. Thank you Bishop Flemings Mtonga, Wilfred Mwanza and all teachers of Jarmy School for all the thoughtfulness and love you show all the 78 children and youths from Chiparamba.

ARCHITECTS IN LUSAKA FULFILL THE DREAM OF THE CHIPARAMBA FOUNDATION

In November architects Johan Arrhov and Henrik Carlsson made a ten-day trip to Lusaka to study the architectural prerequisites to be able to fulfill the vision of the Chiparamba Foundation of building a school, an activity house and a modest sports center in Zambia's capital city.

To work as architects under the conditions in Lusaka is quite different from those in the western world but it is a challenge. The architects met difficult and big issues, but they considered the task to be inspiring. They have found it necessary to carry out numerous preliminary studies in the area. Those studies ranged from interviewing children to sustainable developments and learning about local building traditions.

The site in mind for the project is one of the few empty lots in the city which is strategically located between several central compounds – Kalingalinga, Mutendere and Helen Kaunda, where most of the Chiparamba players and sisters live and attend school.

The intention is to enter into an agreement with Jarmy School which currently owns the site, which is about 40 acres. Johan and Henrik are working out a long-range strategy for the enlargement of the existent school and a new activity house building with a sports center and a home arena for the Chiparamba Great Eagles.

Thank you Henrik and Johan for your fantastic involvement in the Foundation. We look forward to taking a close at your Chipa School drawings in the middle of February.

This swamp next to Jarmy School will be turned into a footballfield if all goes well.

"KICK AIDS OUT" TAKES A TIME OUT

It was our intention to repeat our "Kick Aids Out" event at the Café Opera on December 4 in more or less the same manner as a year ago, but, regrettably, it did not turn out that way. It became clear that it would be difficult to repeat the previous year's success as some of the big name performers were unable to work this event into their schedules. We also felt that it was necessary to concentrate entirely on the sponsorship program "Chipa Sisters & Brothers" rather than also taking on another charity gala. At this moment we cannot say when we will be able to arrange the next "Kick Aids Out" event, but it will come back – without a doubt.

An endless thank you to Nikke Ström – Chipa Family – for the time you put into trying to arrange a new "Kick Aids Out" event.

THE "CHIPA SISTERS & BROTHERS" DATABASE OPENED IN DECEMBER

Undeniably the logistics around "Chipa Sisters & Brothers" have not functioned in a satisfying manner during the past year. Due to administrative problems the Foundation has not been able to fulfill its promises about information and photographs of all the sponsored children to all of the sponsors. We apologize for this here and now. To deal with these problems we have set up a database that handles information and photos of all the sponsored children. In practical terms this means that Tobias Tembo can update all relevant information from his computer in his office in Jarmy School. It is the hope of the board that we will fulfill our promise to sponsors early in 2007.

Our sincere thank you for your exceptional patience, all of you sponsors who still have not got correct information about your orphans. Your generosity and enormous involvement in the Foundation has been very important when we have been building up "Chipa Sisters & Brothers."

The database keeps track of all the information surrounding "Chipa Sisters & Brothers".

CHIPARAMBA VS. RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS

Let us end this eventful Chipa-year with a cool story.

On December 11 and 12 one of the world's best known rock bands – Red Hot Chili Peppers – gave two sold-out concerts in the Globe Arena in Stockholm. On the Sunday evening drummer Chad Smith dropped by Café Opera just to chat and take a couple of drinks. At about 2 a.m. Chad decided to walk the approximately 300 meters to his suite at the Grand Hotel. On his way out from the Café Opera he stopped and took a look at the "Chipa photo" hanging on the wall in the lobby. "Wow, cool photo," he said to himself and started to read on the backs from left to right. "Tom Petty, Bono, Neil Young, Frank Zappa, Eminem ... and... John Frusciante."

Chad was mighty proud to find John Frusciante – guitarist in the Red Hot Chili Peppers – among this group of immortal rock stars and excitedly he told Abbe, the manager of Café Opera, that he wanted to buy the picture and give it to John Frusciante as a Christmas present. On the following morning Abbe phoned Klas, who had taken the photo, to urge him to contact Chad at the Grand Hotel. Klas phoned Chad who explained that he wanted to buy the "cool" photo. In the afternoon Klas turned up at Chad's room with a copy of the photo.

Klas told the story about how he traveled to Lusaka at Easter time in 2004 with a bunch of football shirts with the names of rock favorites under his arm. And that he had a naïve idea about uniting the forces of music and football to change the attitudes towards hiv/aids and that his friends would support this project rather than giving him presents on his 50th birthday later that year. Klas concluded by saying that his naïve idea had grown into the Chiparamba Foundation. "Cool!" exclaimed Chad and asked Klas to join him at the Globe Arena and tell his story to the other members of the band when Chad planned to present the photo to John just before their concert.

When Klas turned up at their dressing-room, Chad got the other members of the band together and Klas told the story of his photo once again. "Super cool," reacted the super stars. The little ceremony came to an end when John Frusciante told the story of his big idol Frank Zappa, that when he was young he learned to play the guitar after listening to Zappa's solos, that they knew almost all of the artists – who are still alive – whose names were on the backs of the shirts. Then John Frusciante shook hands with Klas who then presented Chad with a couple of copies of the "Kick Aids Out" DVD, the Chipa-folder etc. Klas and Chad promised to keep in touch.

Thank you Chad Smith for most likely increasing the value of the photo substantially and Anders Valentin – Chipa Family – for the pleasant company and an excellent snapshot from the event. Thank you also Margareta and Eje of Tryck & Rit for arranging the fine football shirts.

This picture of the Chiparamba Great Eagles was taken in Lusaka in 2004. Today it hangs in the Café Opera in Stockholm among other places.

CHRISTMAS CARDS PROMOTE CHIPARAMBA'S TRADEMARK

An excellent way to increase knowledge of the Chiparamba Foundation is to show that you support it through your Christmas cards. If you are interested the Foundation can help you with layout, original, printing and free access to photos.

We humbly want to thank Clarissa Sandberg and Staffan Holm of Ema Telstar and Mats Hedberg at Hedberg & Co for their generosity and cooperation.

JULGLÄDJE!

Ta en titt på bilden igen. Håll med om att syskonen Jimmy och Frida Chesenga's omisskännliga glädje smittar av sig. Deras vardag är tyvärr kantad av alltför mycket misär, men ändå lyckas de hålla livsgnistan uppe. Jimmy spelar i fotbollslaget Chiparamba Great Eagles i Zambias huvudstad Lusaka. Zambia är ett av världens 15 fattigaste länder med en medellivslängd på ofattbara 33 år och hela 22 procent av befolkningen bär på hiv/aids.

Vi vill gärna stödja killarna och deras systrar med ambitionen att denna glädje aldrig någonsin ska gå förlorad. Fotboll är det roligaste de vet och vi bidrar med resurser för att denna lek ska kunna paras med ett drägligt liv.

För andra året i rad blir vårt bidrag till Chiparamba Foundation en julklapp från oss, men också indirekt från dig, eftersom du personligen får avstå från vår julgåva. Med idrott, musik och konst som verktyg ger stiftelsen stöd åt barn och ungdomar i södra Afrika. Läs gärna mer på www.chiparamba.com.

Förhoppningsvis ligger det något i uttrycket "att den bästa glädjen är att få ge bort någonting". Ja, kanske är just detta den sanna julglädjen och vi hoppas att vi får dela den med dig.

Låt oss få avsluta med att framföra ett stort tack för i år, önska en riktigt skön jul samt ett lyckosamt nytt år 2007!

THIS HOLIDAY SEASON Hedberg & Co will make a donation to the Chiparamba Foundation, instead of giving traditional Christmas gifts to our clients and business partners. The Chiparamba Foundation is very dear to us and we have been working with them since the start last year. The purpose of the foundation is to raise awareness about HIV/AIDS through sports, music, art and education in Lusaka, the capital of Zambia. We hope that you will appreciate our donation.

Holiday greetings from all of us at HEDBERG & CO
www.chiparamba.com

På en luggig fotbollsplan invid Munali School i Zambias huvudstad Lusaka har 150 killar fotbollsträning två timmar varje dag sex dagar i veckan. Hit går många av barnen tre mil varje dag för att hålla drömmen om att bli fotbollsproffs vid liv.

Här ber de, sjunger och dansar efter träningen. Och får höra träsna hamra in i deras medvetanden att de ska skydda sig när de har sex. Att de varken får nyttja droger eller alkohol. Och att de måste vara flitiga i skolan om de ska behålla sin plats i laget.

Chiparamba Great Eagles är en välorganiserad och framgångsrik liten fotbollsklubb. I ett land som idag är ett av världens 15 fattigaste med en medellivslängd på ofattbara 33 år och med en befolkning där 22 procent bär på hiv/aids.

Vi har valt att avstå från att ge julklappar till både medarbetare och nära och kära. Istället stöder Brandreality - via Chiparamba Foundation - fotbollsklubbarna och deras systrar med skolavgifter, skolböcker och skoluniformer.

Detta hindrar oss dock inte från att skänka dig en tanke i dessa julettider. Låt oss därför få avsluta med att önska dig en riktigt god jul och ett framgångsrikt nytt år 2007.

2006 SHOWED BLACK FIGURES

Our patrons have contributed 16.300 $ and companies and the general public contributed 16.700 $ during the past year. Combined with our net income from the charity gala in Gothenburg, which netted 22.800, our income has totaled 55.800 $.

We have paid 26.200 $ in school fees for 102 sponsored children in a couple of different schools. Expenses in Lusaka amounted 3.400 $ and administrative costs ran to 8.000 $.

All in all we registered a surplus of 18.200 $ for the 2006. Combined with our surplus for 2005 we have 42.000 $, which gives us a stable economy for the year 2007.
